At 179

To create a category of career professional foreign intelligence of the effectively to serve the interests of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives on the United States of America in Congress assembled,

- Italiance with requestions prescribed by him ass after suitable examination, the Director of Central Intelligence (hereinafter referred to as the Director) may appoint persons to be known as Foreign Intelligence Officers. Such officers shall be appointed, presented, and retained on the basis of merit and fitness and may be separated only it accordance with law. To the extent decade appropriate by the litrector all provisions of law not inconsistent herewith which are applicable to Foreign Service Reserve Officers shall be applicable to Foreign Intelligence Officers. The Director shall establish such examining and selection boards or procedures as may be necessary for use in the appointment, promotion, and separation of Foreign Intelligence Officers.
- (b) Any Foreign Intelligence Officer may be separated by the Firmetor for unsatisfactory performance of duties, but only after a review of the case by, and opportunity for a hearing before, an impartial advisory board appointed by the Director, except there nothing herein shall be construed as affecting section 102(c) of the Sational Security Act of 1947, as employed.

 The Director shall also provide for the periodic appraisal of such officers and, in accordance with regulations prescribed by mim, may separate those the SFS.

consistently ranked below a minimum level prescribed for their class.

(c) The Director may establish an independent retirement and disability system for the benefit of Foreign Intelligence Officers based on the provisions of the Foreign Service Act of 1946, as heretofore of hereafter smended. Any officer separated pursuant to subsection (b) hereof shall be entitled to the payments or retirement benefits preserved in sections 634 or 637 of that Act, as appropriate.